THAT CHANGE IN INCREASE IN WESTERN CANADA LAND VALUES

> But Forty and Fifty Bushels of Wheat to the Acre.

During the past year there has been Western Canada than for a number of years past. The demand is for good farm lands improved or unimproved. And at an increase of from ten to fifteen dollars an acre more than the same lands could be had for a couple of years ago.

The rise in the price of every kind of produce grown on these Western lands, in some cases to double and in others to treble the price prevailing before 1914, have attracted and are attracting in ever-increasing proportions the men who are anxious to invest their money, and apply their energies in the production of wheat for which the allied nations are calling with voices which grow louder and more anxious as the months roll on, and the end of the war still seems distant. Beef, and more especially bacon, are required in ever greater quantities, and the price of all these things has soared, until it is not a question of what shall we produce, but how much can we produce. Even should this world calamity be brought to a close n six months from now, it will be ears before normal pre-war prices prevail, and meantime self-interest if not patriotism is turning the minds of thousands back to the land. The inevitable consequence has been the rise in value of land, especially wheat hese conditions says: "From inquiries made from leading eaters in farming and ranching proprties, and from the information gathed in other ways, it is known that the value of all land-wheat land, mixed farming properties and even good grazing land-has risen in the ast two years 40 per cent. Wheat ands in some districts have practically doubled in price. One dealer in arm lands recently sold three sections for $70 an acre, one extra good quarer went as high as $90, and another brought $100. These are, of course, large prices, but that they will be equaled or even surpassed in the near future is beyond question. There is a feature about this rush to the land from which the most solid hope can be drawn for the success of the movement. The proper tillage of land, to produce large crops in a climate like ours is now understood and practiced as it never was in the early days of the province. It would seem too that with the increase of land under cultiand the rainfall becoming greater and more regular.

Girls' canning clubs in the United States put up a total of 14,640,187 containers of fruits and vegetables during 1917. Counting in the canning done the organized women's clubs and through the homedemonstration agents, the total canned product is estimated at 850,000,000 quarts, with a value of about $140,000,000, and this does not include the products dried and salted for home use.

Big Wages for Spare Time. Factory workers in an Ohio town, last year, earned money during spare time at the rate of 92 cents an hour. That would be $7.36 for an eight-hour day, $220.80 a month, $2,649.60 a year. That is a good deal more than a fair profit on idle hours.

What were they doing? Working in me gardens, growing vegetables that they and their families ate. The manufacturing concern for which they worked during regular hours kept an accurate record of the time the men spent working in the gardens and the value of the garden stuff grown.

This matter isn't news, particularly. It is nearly nine months old. Priests (vv. 10, 11). This black crime was committed immediately following the beautiful act of devotion by Mary. The motive actuating Judas was avarice. This awful depth of infamy was not reached at a bound. Because he did not master this besetting sin at the beginning, he was conquered by it. II. The Last Passover (vv. 12-25).

1. The preparation (vv. 12-16). In reply to the disciples' inquiry as to where they should prepare the Passover for him. Jesus told them to go into the city where they would meet a man bearing a pitcher of water, whom they should follow. In the house to which they were thus led would be found a guest chamber -a large upper room-where they could make ready the Passover. This is an example of Christ's superhuman knowledge. He not only knew that the disciples would meet this man, but he knew that Judas had bargained with the priests for his betraval. For this reason he kept secret the location of the upper room, thus preventing interruption by those into whose hands Judas had betrayed the Lord.

2. The betrayal announced (vv. 17-21).

The betrayal was to be by one of the disciples who was eating with Jesus. This betraval had been predicted, though such prediction did not interfere with the free act of Judas in the betrayal. It was because of this act of treachery being freely committed by Judas that Jesus pronounced upon him the awful doom-"Good were it for that man if he had never been born.'

3. The bread and the cup instituted (vv. 22-25).

These were symbols of his broken body and shed blood, by which he made atonement for man's sins, thus ratifying the new covenant. This is not only a memorial service, but has a forward look to the perfected Kingdom of God which shall be ushered in with the coming of the Son of God. III. The Disciples' Cowardice Foretold (vv. 26-31).

In spite of their cowardly turning from the Saviour, he assures them that after his resurrection he would go before them into Galilee. Peter protested against such act of disloyalty by the disciples, and assured the Lord that though all the rest should forsake him, yet he would not. The Lord showed him how little he knew even of his own best resolve, telling him that on that very night he would deny him thrice. All the disciples said the same thing.

IV. The Agony in Gethsemane (vv. 33-42). The clear vision of the coming anguish of the Cross, accentuated by the utter failure of the disciples to understand or believe, brought upon him an indescribable anguish of soil. so he took Peter, James, and John and went apart to pray. The cup of agony was not mere death, but the sacrificial death for sin, under the weight of the world's guilt. 1. The first prayer (vv. 35-38). Notwithstanding the darkness of the hour, he prayed in faith accompanied with a willingness to obey. When he came and found the three sleeping instead of praying, he commanded them to watch and pray so as to be fortified against temptation. 2. The second prayer (vv. 39-48).

He went apart and uttered the same words, and upon his return found the disciples asleep again. 3. The third prayer (vv. 41, 42). When he came the third time and found the disciples asleep, he announced that the Son of Man was betrayed, and that the betrayer was V. The Betrayal and Arrest of Jesus (vv. 43-52).

 The sign to the mob (vv. 43-47). With the basest of hypocrisy Judas pointed out Jesus to the mob by a kiss, the sign of love.

2. Jesus forsaken by all (vv. 48-52). At the sight of the Master's betrayal and arrest, one of his disciples attempted to defend him by resorting to the sword; but seeing that Jesus made no attempt at resistance, they all fled. Their courage failed them in the hour of trial. How little man knows of his weaknesses until the crucial hour. VI. Jesus Before the Sanhedrin (vv.

Though Peter loves Jesus, yet in the hour of supreme trial he falls. Grievous as his sin is, it is not like that of Judas. His failure was due to 1. Boasting self-defense (vv. 29-31).

2. Lack of watchfulness (v. 37).

3. Neglect of prayer (v. 38). 4. Service in the energy of the flesh (v. 47). 5. Following Jesus afar off (v. 54). 6. Seek comfort among the Lord's enemies (v. 67; compart Luke 22:55). 7. Open denial (vv. 68-72).
